PACKAGING REPORT

Industry Update

The Packaging report, created by Baird's Global Investment Banking Department, highlights capital markets trends and events that impact packaging companies throughout the world.

The report provides background information on the global packaging sector while also focusing on a different highlighted market each quarter. The report includes relevant data points on macroeconomic activity as well as raw materials pricing. Details about the packaging sector's trading multiples and historical performance are explored based on data for Baird's Research coverage in the sector. The report also includes operating and valuation metrics for European and Asian companies, as well as data on M&A activity in the packaging sector.
